Serving Morris County

Annual Report 2014

Neighbors Helping Neighbors

MISSION STATEMENT

The Mission of the Interfaith Food Pantry is to:

- improve the health and well being of Morris County residents in need by providing access to food, nutrition education and related resources;
- provide hands on opportunities for neighbors to help neighbors;
- educate the public about the issues of hunger in our area.

What is the Interfaith Food Pantry?

The Interfaith Food Pantry is a non-denominational, non-profit 501 (c) (3) organization helping families make ends meet by supplementing their monthly groceries in times of need. Established in 1994, the Interfaith Food Pantry was formed when a group from four local houses of worship decided to address the growing issue of hunger by consolidating their food assistance programs. The objective was to create a central collection and distribution center in Morristown. Our Federal tax-exempt # is 22-3618468.

What We Do The Interfaith Food Pantry provides groceries to eligible Morris County residents. Groceries are collected from a variety of sources: houses of worship, businesses & schools, community service programs, local groups and organizations, individuals and families.

The Food Pantry purchases food whenever donations run low in order to maintain our goal of providing reliable assistance to the community. We distribute groceries to: senior citizens, low-income working families, recently unemployed workers, and other individuals in crisis. In addition to those who come to the Pantry, groceries are delivered throughout the county to those who are disabled and cannot get to us.

How Does Someone Get Groceries? Groceries are provided to anyone in need from Morris County who has housing and cooking facilities. Individuals set up an appointment with our Intake Counselors where they will fill out an application and are interviewed to help us assess their need. Our pantry is set up as a Client Choice Program, where clients are allowed to select the food they want from the shelves as if they were in a supermarket. The amount they can take is determined by the size of their family. They may continue to use the pantry as long as there is need.

Where Do Our Clients Come From? All are residents of Morris County. In addition to walk-ins, referrals are made from houses of worship, hospitals and schools. Many are sent by community agencies such as the Department of Aging and Disabilities, NJ Battered Women's Shelter, St. Clare's Behavioral Health Center, Cornerstone, Neighborhood House, Homeless Solutions, Inc. and the Mental Health Assoc. of Morris County.

Our clients come from all walks of life. Most are working but their incomes do not keep pace with the cost of living. They are employed as nursing aides, clerical workers, restaurant & retail staff, school employees & day care assistants. In recent months we have seen a large increase in the number of people who have lost their jobs. Others are living on Social Security or Disability. They are grandparents raising their grandchildren and folks living with chronic illness. They are our neighbors.

What Else Do We Do? As we determine what other needs families may have, we give them referral information to resources that provide assistance, such as eyeglasses, day care scholarships, furniture, clothing, etc. Nutrition and making good food choices is the basis for our "Healthy Choices Program" which includes food demos for clients and volunteers and family cooking classes teaching all how to make healthy low cost meals. Screenings for health issues such as diabetes, hypertension and dental problems are provided by partners from Morristown Medical Center and the Zufall Clinic. Our Healthy choices program staff also work to secure healthy items not traditionally found in pantries such as low-sodium, low-sugar, dairy, fresh produce, and whole grains. In addition, they run our gleaning program to rescue food from area supermarkets that might otherwise go to waste, which gives clients frozen meat choices as a source of protein.

The Pantry also tries to make holidays a little brighter for those in need. We provide Thanksgiving food baskets and turkeys and December holiday baskets.

The Food Pantry accepts donations from a variety of local sources that want to help those in need. If we cannot use the items offered we try to match donors with groups who are looking for particular donations. We also stock an emergency food closet located at the Morristown site of the County Office of Temporary Assistance. Finally, we help meet the emergency food needs of some of the other non-profit groups whenever possible.

The Interfaith Food Pantry embodies the traditional spirit of neighbors helping neighbors.

Who Are Our Clients?

There continues to be an influx of people coming to the Interfaith Food Pantry looking for any assistance we can provide to them in the way of food and other referrals. Their stories are all touching! Please know that it is your gifts of food, money, time and compassion that makes a difference in the lives of our neighbors in need. Here are a few of their stories...

“Martha” is in her late sixties and disabled. Things were going well until she moved in with relatives with the plan to share expenses. Unfortunately, they ended up using all her money and then left. She became homeless and also lost her car. Just when everything seemed to be going wrong, good friends took her in and found agencies to assist her. She was able to find a low income apartment in a senior complex and was introduced to the Interfaith Food Pantry. “I have had the problem of trying to fill my cupboards and now, with your help, they are full. I can make myself a beautiful lunch with the breads and meats you bring me. The variety is unbelievable and I no longer have to eat the same thing over and over again.” She is so grateful to the IFP and a very humble lady, she also states that there may be a time she may not need all the food she is currently receiving “I don’t want to take more than what I need... there may be others who need it more than me!”

“David” is an 83 year gentleman and a WWII veteran who was classified as “100% disabled” when he returned home from the war. His wife Ellen has been his long time caretaker and now both are in the process of losing their eyesight. David has been receiving support from the government and Veteran Affairs, however, what he brings in doesn’t cover all their living expenses. They are having a difficult time making ends meet and are just scraping by struggling to keep up with the rent. He is afraid of losing his home and not being able to provide for he and his wife especially amid the mounting medical bills. They first contacted the IFP in October and as David said they cannot believe all the help, support and generosity they have received from us and their home delivery volunteer. “I thank God for you being in my life. I am still a little embarrassed to take any kind of charity but I hate to admit it – I definitely need it. God bless and thank you all.” With the extra money they save on food they are able to put it towards their rent.

“Helen” and “Tim” came to the Interfaith Food Pantry after experiencing extreme financial hardships. They weren’t always like this... in fact the family had been doing very well. Tim had a great job, worked for a large company and had just begun to see his dream come true of sending his kids to college... they thought they were living the American dream! And then tragedy struck... Tim became extremely ill and was rushed to the hospital. He has been hospitalized numerous times and is no longer able to work. The family had to use up their retirement funds to cover expenses including the mounting hospital bills that insurance didn’t cover. Helen works part-time, but doesn’t make enough to offset the family’s monthly expenses and her job isn’t stable either. The threat of being downsized hangs with her every day adding to the myriad of stresses in both their lives! Helen and Tim are working very closely with our new case manager who has been providing them with important resources they never knew existed or would ever need. They are both very grateful for all the help they are receiving from the Interfaith Food Pantry but can’t help express concern that, like them, this can happen to anyone. “More and more people need to know that there are good people out there willing to help!”

Interfaith Food Pantry Programs

Client Choice Program

- provides clients with emergency and supplemental food during time of need
- provides clients with access to a variety of food from each food group based on family size, dietary restrictions and personal preference
- empowers clients to make decisions and restores integrity to the process of receiving food

Healthy Choices Program

- Provides nutrition counseling for prevention and/or management of diet related illnesses.
- Provides access to a greater variety of nutritious foods that may not typically be available at food pantries (i.e., fresh dairy, lean proteins, low sodium options, gluten free foods, and fresh fruits and vegetables).
- Increases fresh produce through our IFP Garden & by working with communities and groups to set up gardens for IFP.
- Instructs clients on how to prepare available foods in a nutritious manner through a series of nutrition and cooking workshops for children of clients and families.
- Provides screening for potential health risks, e.g., diabetes and hypertension.

Working Families Access Program

- Provides low-income working families access after work on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings as well as Saturdays.
- Provides them with access to referral services and case management, nutrition programs and health screening.

Home Delivery Program

- Works to enable home-bound elderly, disabled and medically fragile clients to remain living independently by pairing them with volunteers who bring food to their homes.
- Attempts to meet dietary restrictions related to their medical needs wherever possible.
- Allows opportunity for community involvement for those who are not available to volunteer during daytime hours.

Family Self-Sufficiency Program

- Enables easy referral to services such as medical and behavioral health care, eyeglasses, furniture, home energy assistance programs, low cost child care options and prescription assistance programs.
- Provides case management services for clients with complex issues to assist them in accessing resources.
- Provides workshops through partnerships with other community programs on financial literacy, free or low cost educational training opportunities, etc.

Education and Advocacy Program

- Educates the public about hunger and related issues and promotes volunteerism and advocacy.
- Provides information and awareness of legislative impact on hunger and related issues.
- Provide public education about the IFP's mission, goals and need for community support.

- Provides hunger-related educational and hands-on sessions for civic, scout, school and worship-based youth groups through volunteer-conducted field trips and after school activities and assists young people in developing their own hunger support activities off site.
- Offers opportunities for families and individuals to participate in public awareness and activism campaigns such as the food stamp challenge, letter writing, brown bag buddies, etc.

Volunteer Program

- Provides opportunity for community involvement for individuals, families, civic groups, houses of worship and corporations.
- Allows members of the community to connect with their neighbors and become part of the solution.
- Enables IFP to be cost-effective, using donated services to expand programs while keeping administrative costs low.
- Provides resources to IFP through fundraising programs and community-wide food drives.

Thanksgiving and December Holidays and other projects such as “We’ve Got Your Back” school supply program

- Allows clients to provide their families with appropriate meals for the holidays.
- Provides opportunity for community-wide involvement via food drives and volunteer opportunities.
- Helps families meet the needs of their children.

Food Rescue Program

- Collects food from partner supermarkets that can no longer be sold but is still safe for consumption.
- Provides clients with access to a greater variety of sources of produce, grains and meats including fresh and frozen items.
